

... Announcer: Let's hear it for your Mother (Mother moves to side of stage and stands for remainder of sketch). Well, I think that's all of the contestants in tonight's program. So I think we are ready to select "the most important person at Christmas!" Oh, this is exciting...(all of the contestants move according to their character and wave)

(After the above lines from Skit Guys drama "The Most Important Person at Christmas", we changed it to the following:)

Herod: Wait! I said WAIT! You have obviously overlooked the most important person. IT IS I!

Announcer: What are you doing? Why are you dressed like that? Who are you?

Herod: I am King Herod of Judea and Christmas is all about me. Everything is all about ME!

Announcer: Oh, no! You are that evil king who killed all the baby boys in Bethlehem.

Herod: No one will usurp my power. I will bow my knee to no one. I am the King and I must be the most important person!

Announcer: You must not realize that Jesus did escape your massacre. JESUS is the true King over ALL.

Herod: I don't believe you.

Announcer: Dude, the holiday is not called "Herod King of Judea Day" it is called "Christ-mas" or Christmas!

*Herod: Then why are you searching for someone else to exalt on this day if you really think that?
(wrong answer music)*

Announcer: (long pause, then awkwardly) Uh, well....Good question.... Umm, well, I guess we already have a winner (pause and look at contestants) Sorry, contestants and uh.. Herod of Judea, Christmas is not all about you. (winding back up again...) It is all about Jesus. Audience, do you agree? (applause)

Yes, yes, we have a winner- Jesus, Son of God! Immanuel, Our Savior, and Lord!

(music cues)

Well, thanks for joining us. May we all exalt Jesus this Christmas!
